

Table decoration ideas for your wedding

Posted on Jan 31, Posted by Atrium & Columns Category Uncategorized

Every couple wishes to have a memorable and beautiful wedding. As it is the most special day of their lives, they want everything to be just perfect. To make this happen, every little detail needs to be carefully planned. Choosing the right wedding dress, theme, venue and food is really important and so is the selection of décor style. The kind of colors and items you choose to decorate the venue can have a lot of impact on the overall look and feel of your wedding. Also the tables are a crucial part of the whole set up where the guests spend most of their time and these should be very well decorated and adorned with interesting items.

You can choose from a lot of options to decorate the tables and make them a highlight of your wedding, some of which are mentioned here:

-

Despite them being so common, candles can still lend an alluring and romantic touch to your décor. An incredible variety of candles is available today, in various shapes and sizes. They also come in different colors which makes it easier to match them with the rest of the décor.

-

What else can signify wedding more than wedding bells? Available in various materials, sizes and styles, these bells can enhance your table décor even more. You can also opt for wedding bells made of paper to enhance your wedding décor.

-

Flowers are an integral part of any wedding celebration and you can use them in plenty of innovative ways. Roses, lilies, orchids or daisies, pick any flowers that you like and place them in vases or let them float freely in bowls.

-

For a beach themed wedding you can also use shells and sand. Practice the layout beforehand and when you are pleased with the setting, click a picture of it, so that the same layout can be replicated on each table.

-

Edible table décor, such as placing fruits, chocolates or candies in attractive trays and bowls, is also a great idea. Your guests would really appreciate this, as it will not only look beautiful, but they can eat them as well.

-

If you want to have a particular seating arrangement for the guests, then you can place attractive card holders, as they are available in various styles and themes. They will not only guide people, but will also become a wonderful centerpiece.

-

Miniature ornaments also make amazing table décor items and souvenirs. Depending on your choice and liking, you can go for birds, flowers or various other ornaments, which are available extensively nowadays in different materials.

With the above mentioned table décor ideas you can certainly add a distinctive and appealing touch to your wedding. Make sure that the center piece that you choose is of right size and height, otherwise it can become a distraction for the guests. So, keep in mind the theme of your wedding and play with different items to come up with your own ideas for table décor.

Tags: